

R-100 ADDS ANOTHER BRILLIANT PAGE TO DIRIGIBLE HISTORY WHEN IT IS MOORED TO HANGAR AFTER TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

Big Ship Sighted at Montreal at 2.27 But is Not Made Fast Until Three Hours Later Due to Darkness—Damage to Fin's Fabric Negligible—Weather Reduced Speed

By James L. Kilgallen

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, Montreal, Que., Aug. 1.—Another brilliant page was written in dirigible history today when the R-100, Great Britain's challenge to Germany's pre-eminence in lighter-than-air navigation, successfully completed a trans-Atlantic flight from Cardington, England, to the St. Hubert Air Station near Montreal.

The R-100 was sighted from the airport here at 2.27 o'clock this morning, Eastern Daylight Time, 75 hours and 42 minutes after she left Cardington. Because it was dark at the time, the world's biggest dirigible did not moor to the powerful million dollar mooring tower here until 5.37 a. m., 78 hours and 52 minutes after she departed from Cardington. Until the very last lap of her journey she was making splendid time. Then she encountered damage to the fabric of her stabilizing fin, and stormy weather conditions—a combination of events that forced her to greatly reduce her speed.

Damage to the fin's fabric was negligible, officers of the ship said upon her arrival. Squadron Leader R. S. Booth, commander of the R-100 on the trip, said the big dirigible "came through in fine condition." He characterized the voyage as a "good test flight" and he and other officers interviewed indicated that in their opinion the flight was a success in every respect.

The R-100 is now attached to the mooring mast of St. Hubert's Airport. She stands out horizontally from the top of the mooring mast, 200 feet above the ground—a big, proud-looking ship, the sun's rays glinting off her dull gray sides.

The R-100 carried forty-four persons on the 3,400 mile flight. There were five officers, thirty-two members of the crew and seven observers and officials. Her commander, Squadron Leader Booth, although only thirty-five years old, has had fifteen years' experience in aviation.

After the giant airship had been safely moored the chief officers aboard granted a joint interview to the press. Those present were Commander Booth; Wing Commander P. M. Colmore, director of airship development; Sir Dennistoun Burney, director of aircraft development and designer of the R-100; Major G. H. Scott, assistant director of aircraft development and Squadron Leader E. L. Johnston, navigating officer.

Wing Commander Colmore said the damage to the fin was not serious. He said only the fabric had been affected. The temporary repairs that were made while the airship was in flight will be supplemented by further repairs here. He remarked that the damage to the fin was somewhat similar to that which befell the Graf Zeppelin on one of its westward flights across the Atlantic to Lakehurst, N. J.

Sir Dennistoun Burney said that were it not for the fact that bad weather was encountered in the final lap they would have reached St. Hubert's airport at six o'clock last night. He declared they made splendid time over the ocean.

Asked concerning the commercial possibilities of such a flight, Sir Dennistoun said:

"It will require an airship double the size of the R-100 with an average speed of 85 miles per hour before we can realize the full commercial possibilities of lighter-than-air craft."

Wing Commander Colmore refuted reports that engine trouble had been experienced. He said there were no worries about the six Rolls-Royce engines at any time during the trip.

"From England to the Canadian shore it was the most comfortable crossing I have ever had," he said. "We did not run into a single bump on the way over. The bumps started registering at Father Point. It was in this

Andalusia Boy Scouts Participate in Boat Ride

On Monday evening the Andalusia Boy Scouts held their usual meeting at the home of Scoutmaster Vickers, Torresdale Manor, after which the boys enjoyed a ride up the Delaware River in Mr. Vickers' boat.

When the lads were ready to return home they discovered the gas supply was ended. Fortunately Raymond Katzmer had his rowboat trailing behind the motorboat so with the help of Jack Curtis he rowed to shore, then walked to State Road for gasoline.

The group included: Mr. Vickers, Raymond Katzmer, Edward Barnhill, Jack Curtis, Jimmy Christian and "Billy" Jackson.

BOYS UNEASY ABOUT EDISON QUIZ RESULT

None of 49 Youths Seem Confident of Winning the Examination

PRAISE WORK OF MEN

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 1.—Having the breath knocked right out of them by a five-hour examination, such as they had never experienced before, and then having it forced right back again in the downward swoop of Coney Island shoot-the-shoots and ocean surf bathing has brought the nation's forty-nine brightest boys almost back to normal today.

Not quite—but almost—though courage and cheer seemed at a low ebb as they came down to breakfast a few hours before the winner of the Edison scientific scholarship will be announced.

None of them seem at all confident that when at 11.00 o'clock the invited guests and their fellow competitors gather on the lawn of Glenmont, the Edison home in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, a four-year scholarship to any scientific college in the country would fall in his lap. They were like skittish race horses in their restlessness.

That "awful exam" is behind them and now they are enduring the agonies of suspense to see who will be the lucky boy, even though Thomas A. Edison rather scoffs at the idea of luck.

Wearily, worn out, but gloriously happy, the boys came back to their hotel here in the wee small hours, prepared for just one more day of fun and festivity. But that will come after eleven o'clock, for even though they will tour the country surrounding the scene of their fun and tribulation of the past few days, their thoughts will not be far from the scholarship.

Hartford Has First Vegetable Parade

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 1.—(INS)—Hartford claims the country's first vegetable parade. Thirty-three market gardeners put their trucks into gay condition on a summer evening, hired two drum corps, and started to show the city that home-grown vegetables are the best. The affair is to be staged annually, its promoters declared, and the Federal farm bureau, cooperating, agrees.

HERE AND THERE THROUGHT BUCKS COUNTY

Ralph F. Corby, of 20 Fourth street, Perkaskie, was recommended for commission as Second Lieutenant in the Coast Artillery Reserve, U. S. Army. It has been announced by headquarters, Fort Monroe Citizens' Military Training Camp.

Having completed the four-year course at the Citizens' Military Training Camp, Corby is eligible for commission upon completion of the Army extension course.

Each year a number of commissioned officers for the Organized Reserve, U. S. Army, are elected from among the graduates of the Citizens' Military Training Camp blue course. These young men are commissioned in the Army of the United States, as provided by the National Defense Act of 1920.

Steam threshers have been operating in the Forest Grove section during the past week. At W. H. Worthington's "Indian Neck Farm," over 700 bushels of oats were threshed and 438 bushels were finished at J. A. Puff's "Ash Lawn Farm," and 300 bushels of wheat at Michael Glenn's.

Work has been started on the building of a marble golf course on Blanche

Burpee Memorial Playground, Doylestown, under direction of Miss Kelley, who has been arranging all sorts of interesting events for the boys and girls.

Last Thursday the older boys and girls took a hike to the farm of Arthur Fretz and returned for a swim in the afternoon.

This week Miss Kelley staged a "Lazy Man's Track Meet." It brought a lot of thrills and a gale of laughter. There were four teams with captains: Blues, Louis Bregan; Reds, Arthur Tyson; Orange, David Coolman; Yellows, Robert Johnson.

Milton Rutherford won the "standing broad grin." Milt grinned a swath 3½ inches wide without showing his teeth.

Karl Crouthamel, son of Willard K. Crouthamel, of Wycombe, who recently returned to Penn State for the summer school, has been notified that he has been made a member of the Iota Lambda Sigma, an honorary professional fraternity made up of students who have gotten high marks. It is an honorary fraternity with chapters in Kentucky, Ohio and New York.

"DOUBLE STREAM" IS THE MEANING OF "NESHAMINY"

Refers to Body Formed by Confluence of Two Other Streams

LOG: COLLEGE THERE

An informative and interesting account of the manner by which the Neshaminy Creek received its name and of the Log College located on its banks years ago was given in an issue of the Philadelphia Inquirer this week, the paragraphs being in reply to a query sent to that paper by one of its readers.

The article read: "Neshaminy, meaning 'double stream,' is a corruption of the Indian word, 'nisham-hanne,' also meaning a double stream. It refers, of course, to a stream formed by the confluence of two others.

"The famous Log College was located on Neshaminy Creek. This was the pioneer seminary for aspirants to the Presbyterian ministry nearly 200 years ago. The deed for the land upon which this early educational institution was built was dated 1728, and was given by Hon. James Logan, the secretary of the province, to his cousin, Reverend William Tennent, an Irish emigrant, who shortly after his arrival in America renounced his allegiance to the Church of England and united with the Philadelphia Presbytery.

"The gift consisted of 50 acres of land, and the part of it on which the college stood is believed to have been an ancient Indian burying ground. The log college, 20 feet by 30 feet in size, was for many years the only institute south of New England where young men could be prepared for the ministry. The college flourished under Mr. Tennent for some twenty years and many noted preachers of Scotch-Irish descent were among its pupils.

"It has been said of the Log Cabin College that it was 'the germ from which proceeded the flourishing College of New Jersey at Princeton.'"

Great Preparations Made For Odd Fellows' Picnic

From the interest being manifest throughout the five counties comprising the Southeastern District of Pennsylvania, Odd Fellows' and Rebekahs' Day at Willow Grove Park, tomorrow, will bring together the largest gathering of members of that fraternity ever seen in this section of the state.

Bucks County lodges are co-operating and everybody is invited.

The general committee has been making great preparations for tomorrow's event. The program includes games and sports of every description, for which prizes will be awarded the winners. There will also be drills by various staffs.

The evening program features sections by Medina Band and a mixed chorus of more than 250 voices; as well as solos and other entertainment features.

This year's celebration will be an old-fashioned basket picnic. Members of the order and their friends are being urged to pack baskets and combine their lunches in groups and by lodges. Children of the Home for Orphans of Odd Fellows at Philadelphia, and residents of the Rebekah Home, and home for the Aged, will be guests of the committee.

TOUR PLANNED BY BUCKS COUNTY BANKERS GROUP

Will Inspect Dairy Herds and Potato Farm on August Fourth

SPECIAL SPEAKERS

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 1.—Bankers of Bucks county will forget routine business for a day on August 4th. It will be no time to make a loan for most of the bankers will be on a tour of Bucks county that is sponsored by the Bucks County Farm Bureau and the Bucks County Bankers' Association.

Starting at 10 a. m. from the Court House the bankers will proceed to the farm of William F. Fretz, of Pipersville, president of the Doylestown National Bank, where the upper-end bankers will join the party to inspect the purebred herd of Guernsey cattle. The second stop will be at the farm of W. S. Bishop, Doylestown, where twenty acres of potatoes will be inspected together with a flock of 1,000 chickens.

At noon there will be dinner served at the Fountain House, this borough through the courtesy of the Doylestown National Bank, the Doylestown Trust Company and the Bucks County Trust Company. The speaker for the occasion will be W. R. Gordon, extension specialist in rural sociology, of State College.

In the afternoon the third stop of the tour will be at the farm of Ralph Crowell, of Buckingham, where there are seventy acres of apples and peaches and a model roadside market.

The fourth stop will be at the Buckingham Fur Farms, Mechanicsville, breeders of muskrats.

Matz Has High Praise For Work of Consolidated Dept.

Peter Matz, Bath Road, who was painfully burned when his truck ignited from a back-fire yesterday, is able to be about, although the burns about his face, arms and shoulders were severe.

Mr. Matz was high in his praise today for the work of the Consolidated Fire Department which after a quick run to his property saved the truck from total damage, and kept the flames from the barn and another truck standing nearby. The injured man desires to publicly thank the firemen for their splendid work.

Goes Without Hat For Eighteen Years

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 1.—(INS)—For 18 years Edward Belli, Stockton insurance man, has gone without a hat.

If it rains in England this summer and he gets caught without an umbrella, he may break his 18-year hatless record, he said as he started for the British Isles.

Belli has lived in the United States for 43 years and this will be his first visit to his native land in 25 years. He carries a small folding French hat in his pocket in case rainfall makes its use necessary.

Pet Dog Saves Child From Poison of Snake Bite

WILLOWS, Cal., Aug. 1.—(INS)—Virginia Sparrow, 13, has her pet, Parlez Vous, a wire haired female terrier, to thank for her escape from a rattlesnake on Elk Creek.

The child came upon the snake while walking along a path. In turning to run away she fell.

The snake was coiled to strike when Parlez Vous arrived and attacked the snake. Parlez Vous killed the snake but not until the reptile had fatally bitten the dog.

PHILA. ELECTRIC COMPANY AGAIN REDUCES RATES

Present Reduction Effective September 1st; Sixth in Eight Years

MEANS LARGE SAVINGS

Philadelphia Suburban Area As Well As City Will Benefit Much

For the sixth time in eight years, Philadelphia Electric Company announces a reduction in rates, the present reduction being effective September 1st. The rate changes mean an annual savings to the company's customers of approximately $1,750,000. The areas suburban to Philadelphia, including the Main Line, Schuylkill and Eastern divisions, along with the city itself, will benefit by the new rates which were filed today with the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg.

The residence service rates in the suburban areas are reduced by dropping the present top price from nine cents per kilowatt-hour to eight cents per kilowatt-hour. This will affect the Main Line, Schuylkill and Eastern divisions, the eight cent rate being already in effect in the Delaware Division. The reduced rate accomplishes the two-fold purpose of making rates more nearly uniform and giving a reduction in the proportion of the territory where the present rates are the highest. The change is a reduction of 10.1 per cent in the first block price.

A reduction has also been made in the charge for agricultural service affecting those customers engaged principally in agricultural pursuits. The new rate of eight cents per kilowatt-hour has been substituted for the nine cent rate which has heretofore been charged for the first fifty kilowatt-hours. This rate, which represents a reduction of more than eleven percent in the top price rate, will be available for both lighting and power.

Previous rate reductions of Philadelphia Electric and the saving to customers annually have been as follows: 1922, $1,200,000; 1923, $1,080,000; 1924, $1,300,000; 1926, $1,500,000; 1928, $900,000. These are annual and not cumulative savings. Reductions, both for gas and electric service, have been made in the suburban area, the most recent being in 1929 to the residential, commercial, and agricultural customers of $700,000 annually and a reduced gas heating rate in 1929 which is estimated to cut the cost of house heating service approximately twenty per cent. The rate reduction in 1928 amounted to more than $1,500,000 to gas and electric customers.

In discussing the new rates, William H. Taylor, president of Philadelphia Electric Company, said:

"It has been the practice of this company to share with its customers the benefits of increased economies of operation in all departments, for both the public and the company benefit by reduced rates, the public through increased use of the numerous labor-saving devices in the home and the company by greater use of its facilities. The greatly expanded use of electric service by the public and the exercise of the most rigid economies and maximum efficiency of system operation have done much to make these reductions possible."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1930

GRATITUDE

Governor Roosevelt, of New York, the other day returned their liberty to four convicts as a reward for their heroism and fearlessness in saving the entire boilerroom equipment during the riots at Clinton Prison a year ago. They risked their lives for the sake of others so richly deserve the freedom which has been given them. The governor's commutation order is instructive:

"I am commuting the sentences of these four men solely as a reward for services rendered by them during the riot. Such assistance to the state and to the forces of law not only entitles them to consideration from the state, but also indicates a desire on their part to become useful members of society."

In this official action the public concurs. No one can help but believe that men capable of such self-sacrifice and courage were in prison more because of the forces of circumstances than for any inherent criminal and unsocial nature. Their regeneration may prove absolute, and if they again go wrong the public will be sincerely disappointed.

This incident recalls to mind that bit of philosophy which says there is so much of good in the worst of us and so much of bad in the best of us that it ill behooves any of us to speak ill of the rest of us.

THE "LISTNER" HAS HIS DAY

It has been said time and again that there is no critic more "difficult" than one who pays nothing. This is true of radio with one qualification.

In a sense the radio listener pays nothing for the costly programs he hears and is so free to criticize. Indirectly it is his money which operates the broadcasting stations and provides the talent that goes before the mike.

The whole radio structure is built upon the investment of owners of radio receiving sets. No single listener's investment is large, but when the average cost of single sets is multiplied by millions, and to this is added the annual cost of operation and upkeep, the aggregate cost, to the listeners, of radio programs reaches vast proportions.

Therefore the readiness of the listener to criticize the radio fare is not to be condemned on the ground that he has no financial interest in the matter. Just as well condemn criticism by the public of plays, books, merchandise and candidates. That of the receiving set owner is the one financial interest most fundamentally essential to the entire radio business, and the promoters of that business will not cease to give most careful attention to what he has to say about programs.

Should people stop buying radio sets and accessories and "silent" nights become a general thing in the homes, high-powered salesmanship would not avail the broadcasters in selling the "time" for which the demand is now greater than the supply. Popularity is the greatest asset of the radio business.

It may be that the mills of the gods grind slowly because they get paid for overtime.

If a man didn't make an occasional mistake his fool friend wouldn't have the pleasure of criticizing him.

With Prices Lowest Since Pre-War Days—
AUGUST Furniture Sale

Now in Progress

A Saving of At Least 20% on Everything—
Many, Many Savings Mount to 50%

The only furniture sale in America planned on such a vast scale—with a record of twelve million customers and a background that is nation-wide.

It comprises the purchase of more good furniture for this one event than most stores (even the very big ones) buy for a whole year—a fact that makes Sears, Roebuck a mighty influence in the wholesale markets and one which sways prices tremendously in our favor—yours, too!

A Master Stroke of Value-Giving That Is, Beyond All Doubt, the Most Convincing Proof Possible of Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s Determination to Co-operate in Immediately Bringing Prices Back to Normalcy on All the Luxuries and Commodities Within Their Province.

For this particular August Furniture Sale all the facilities of our tremendous nation-wide buying power have been brought to bear—we have purchased in lots of many, many carloads—and even the lowest of wholesale prices have been cut still lower.

For Instances, to the Philadelphia and Camden Districts Have Come

5 Carloads of Dining Room Furniture

6 Carloads of Living Room Furniture

6 Carloads of Bedroom Furniture

500 Small Pieces of Furniture

200 Good Substantial Metal Beds

It would take pages to tell the complete story. Here we can give you just a hint of how the savings run.

Easy Time Payments—Make it possible for everyone to participate in these great August Furniture Sale savings —And at the same time enjoy the use of their furniture while paying for it. This is a simple, highly advantageous plan and we will be glad to explain the details to you.

$150 LIVING ROOM SUITES $79
Three pieces, luxuriously upholstered in Jacquard velour.

$200 LIVING ROOM SUITES $139

INDEPENDENTS BREAK DEADLOCK WITH A WIN

Schedule For Tonight
FEDERALS vs. ST. ANN'S
Result of Last Night
Independents, 8; A. O. H., 1

By T. M. Juno

The deadlock for leadership in the Bristol Twilight League was broken last night before one of the largest crowds of the season on St. Ann's field when the Independents gained a victory over the Hibernians by the score of 8-1. Previous to the game these teams were tied for first place.

The victory, however, does not clinch the second half for the "Indies" as both teams have another game to play and there is still a chance for the league to end in a deadlock with the Independents and the Hibernians as the leading teams.

"Milt" Jones, the Red Grange of Bristol baseball, was mostly responsible for the Independents' victory. It was his arm that held the clubbing "Hiboes" to but five hits. The only run scored off the delivery of Jones was as the result of an error by third baseman Morrell and on top of this Jones wild pitched a man to the plate. Jones was in danger on several occasions. For the first four innings, the Hibernians put men on the sacks but Jones bore down and aided by splendid fielding by his cohorts managed to pull through scoreless.

Jones retired the last ten batters without one reaching first. His best inning was the final session when he fanned the three batters that reached to plate to swing at his pitching.

The Independents were in a hitting mood. Every one on the team with the exception of Jones garnered at least one hit or more. Thirteen hits sang off the bats of the "Indies." G. Avella and H. Morrell led with 3 safe blows each. Hibbs wasn't far behind with a two-bagger and a single.

Though they were defeated the Corson street boys were fighting to the end and are determined to put the league in a deadlock again if the Independents are defeated on Monday.

The Italian club started by scoring twice in the first. G. Avella led off with his first hit, a single to left; Avella stole second and third; Morrell's single to center scored Avella; Mangan tried to catch Morrell off first and threw wild allowing the runner to reach second; Hibbs and Purcell were strikeout victims; Lasprella reached first on Brady's error; Morrell counting; B. Avella grounded out.

The Hibernians' only tally was scored in the first. Connors singled to center; Dougherty sacrificed the runner to second; Holden's single to right put Connors on third base; Leyden struck out; Morrell was charged with an error when he dropped Sullivan's foul fly; Jones made a wild pitch, scoring Connors; Sullivan fanned.

Thrice the Independents scored in the second. Brushia was safe on Thompson's error; Romeo singled to center; Jones sacrificed the runners to second and third, respectively; Avella singled to center, scoring Brushia and Romeo; Morrell was thrown out by Brady, Avella advancing to third; Hibbs singled Avella to the plate; Purcell forced Hibbs.

The "Hiboes" filled the bases in the second but could not score. Thompson reached first on Hibbs' error; Mangan and McClafferty chopped short singles, filling the sacks; Brady fanned; Connors' fly to Brushia was not long enough to score Thompson who held third; Dougherty hit a foul fly to Morrell.

In the fourth three more runs went to the "Indies." Jones fanned; Avella got his third hit, a single to right; Morrell clipped a hit to center; Hibbs' two-bagger to left scored Avella; Purcell singled to left, scoring Morrell and Hibbs but the runner was out trying for second, McClafferty to Thompson to Mangan to Brady.

WAYNESBORO, Pa., Aug. 1.—(INS)—For the first time in his life, Newt Reddick, a staunch Democrat, is going to vote for a Republican for governor in the coming election.

Reddick recently celebrated his 76th birthday. He is voting for Gifford Pinchot for governor because, Reddick says, he will attempt to stamp out corruption in state affairs and because he believes Pinchot is the friend of the working man.
